Our goal is to raise children that not just survive the world, but change the world. What does it look like to prepare our children to be dangerous? What are practical ways you can aim your kids (or yourself) away from themselves and toward God and His work? How have you done this in your family?

APPLY THE TRUTH
Which of the practical questions Pastor Micah and Courtney discussed do you need to answer and apply to your life and/or family? What end goal are you focusing on for your child? Are you so child-centered that you have lost priority of your relationship with your spouse or God? How can you help your child feel more at home with your church community than other communities in their life? Are your kids hearing you?

SMALL GROUP APPLICATION QUESTIONS

1. STUDY THE SCRIPTURE

2.

Read Philippians 2:19-23. What qualities does Paul display in this passage as a spiritua father to Timothy that we can emulate in our parenting? How did your parents prepare you to be sent out for the Lord? How are you aiming your life and/or you kids' lives towards the purposes of God?
ASSESS YOUR LIFE
Think of the intentionality of shooting a real arrow. Discuss the thoughts that go into shooting an arrow. Is it hard for you to let go of your children? What fears do you have when thinking about sending them out?

We will never be able to let go of our children if our hope is in our own "ability" to protect them. In what areas do you find yourself placing your hope in yourself or other things instead of God? Discuss the fine line and proper balance between protecting our kids from danger and being overprotective.
