

Which of the complaint questions can you relate to in your life? What specific complaints have you or should you have taken to God?

Complaining is a vital part of lament, but only if done rightly. How does doing it rightly help us and doing it wrongly hurt us? Reflect on the four steps of how to complain rightly. Which one is most helpful to you in learning and starting to complain rightly to God?

3. APPLY THE TRUTH

What complaint(s) do you need to humbly take to God right now? Make a list of complaints you are struggling with and then pray over them, asking God to help you and bring clarity in your pain. Use one of the Psalms of lament to help you voice your complaints to God.

SMALL GROUP APPLICATION QUESTIONS

1. STUDY THE SCRIPTURE

Read Psalm 10. What are some specific types of complaints listed in Psalm 10? What is the basis for the Psalmist to complain about these issues? Who is he complaining to and why is this significant to the process of lament?

2. ASSESS YOUR LIFE

What was your perspective on complaining to God prior to this message? How did it change? Why is complaining to God in our pain better than responding in anger or denial? When have you complained to others rather than God and how did it impact your heart and situation?

Pastor Micah read several complaint questions from Psalms of lament. What was surprising about these questions? What was comforting or encouraging about them?
